

Hosted by the Research Institute of Korean Studies at Korea University
Sponsored by the Pony Chung Foundation

The 7th RIKS Academy for Young Korean Studies Scholars

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Over the past decades, the Korean Studies field has seen quantitative and qualitative growth alongside an ever-increasing number of researchers inside and outside Korea. Despite the ever growing diversity of countries, cultures, and academic environments from which our researchers come from, many young researchers often do not have many opportunities to share their findings and receive valuable feedback.

Korea University's Research Institute of Korean Studies (RIKS) worked in collaboration with the support of the Pony Chung Foundation to create an international platform, the RIKS Academy, in 2016. Since its founding in 1957, RIKS, a leader in Korean studies, has fulfilled its long-term mission of fostering interactions among young researchers and broadening the research of Korean studies. This year, the seventh RIKS Academy will bring together scholars of philosophy, history, culture, and literature for intensive courses designed to explore Korean studies in its broader regional context.

This year, we would like to gather carefully at the RIKS again to hold an academy. The following three events aim to deepen participants' expertise and broaden networking connections between young Korean studies scholars: (1) Korean studies seminars led by leading scholars in the field, (2) Participants' presentations and discussions of their research topics and (3) Field trip. The RIKS encourages all participants' research and cooperation, and we look forward to working with you.

The 2nd RIKS Workshop

In conjunction with the RIKS Academy, the Research Institute of Korean Studies has organized RIKS Workshop to provide greater opportunities for more comprehensive academic networking. The RIKS Workshop provides support for focused seminars, organized by disciplinary field, enabling research productivity to a greater number of scholars. The formal announcement of the second RIKS Workshop will tentatively be available through the RIKS website in early July, with plans to hold the workshop in December 2022~January 2023. We hope for widespread participation from interested scholars.

Eligibility Criteria

- Research panels consisting of former participants in the RIKS Academy (PhD recipients may also apply)
- Panels consisting of Korean Studies Scholars (Masters/PhD)
- Panels which will hold workshop in conjunction with a mentoring professor
- Interested parties who will attend a lecture given in Korean, followed by a discussion or debate, also in Korean
- The field of Korean Studies refers to scholarship in the humanities or social sciences on the theme of Korea. However, this includes comparative research that focuses on Korea.
- Applications must fulfill all of the above requirements

Research Funding

- The selected finalists will be provided up to KRW 1,000,000 in funding (maximum six people per panel)
- Each panel will be provided a maximum of KRW 2,000,000 for advising professors (maximum 1,000,000 per person)
- Panels will be provided up to KRW 1,000,000 for the implementation and hosting of workshops
- Arrangements will be provided for lodging at Korea University dormitory or accommodation (must apply in advance)

Number of Finalists: maximum 5 teams

Application Process

- Application Form (Form Provided), Curricula Vitae for each member of the panel (all participants must be included)

For more details on the second RIKS Workshop, please refer to the official call for applications to be released in early July.
